Meet Our Family Medicine Residents

Taylor Gardner, DO Class of 2024

Hi! My name is Taylor Gardner. I was born and raised in Paducah, KY. Seeing my dad work in the medical field sparked my joy for helping others, while working as a scribe in the ED solidified my desire to practice medicine. I completed undergrad at the University of Louisville and Medical School at the Kentucky College of Osteopathic Medicine in Pikeville, KY.

Looking to broaden my horizons, I applied for residency across the country, but fell in love with the people and the program here in Evansville, a mere 2 hours from my home. I am so excited to embark on my journey to becoming a full fledged physician at Deaconess Hospital, where the unopposed program, full spectrum and procedural training, along with a diverse patient population is unmatched.

Outside of medicine, my husband and I enjoy getting outdoors, baking, and board games. We are looking forward to settling into our new home in Evansville.
