Meet Our Family Medicine Residents

Rehan Rahman, DO Class of 2024

Hello, my name is Rehan Rahman. I was born and raised here in Evansville, Indiana. I spent most of my life living on the West Side where I graduated from Reitz High School. After high school, I went to IU Bloomington where I received a Bachelor's in Biology and attended Marian University College of Osteopathic Medicine for my medical training.

I am a father and husband to my wonderful son and wife. I was lucky enough to marry another Evansville native, so coming back to town for residency was high on our list. I always knew that Deaconess was going to be a front runner, but the interview itself sealed the deal. I felt so comfortable interacting with everyone and knew it was going to be a perfect fit. Being an unopposed program, I know I will get the training to become an excellent physician here at Deaconess.

Hobbies that I enjoy include snowboarding, golfing, and playing guitar.
